Living in Harmony

Are you in transition, facing questions of life vision, vocation, passion, purpose, direction, or meaning?

Are you wrestling with issues of retirement, relationships, or underlying life patterns?

Do you want to create greater alignment between your inner values and your outer actions, and live with the courage to lean into action with both integrity and authenticity?

Do you long to learn new life skills that empower you to speak and listen in a way that fosters greater authentic connection?

Savor a retreat in the south of France, a glorious time of reflection and renewal. Based on the work of American Quaker educator, Parker J. Palmer, this Courage & Renewal ® Retreat explores issues of transition, vocation, retirement, life passion, purpose, meaning, direction, and underlying life patterns, to live in alignment with your deepest values, and the courage to act with integrity and authenticity.

Creativity and Stillness

In a safe, quiet, nurturing, and confidential environment, the retreat promotes reflection and clarity, and uses poetry, prose, music, movement, nature, video, and the stunning beauty of rural Provence-Languedoc

Communal Authenticity

Enjoy quiet time for self-reflection, large and small group discussions, and much laughter and lightness.

Clearness committees, a Quaker communal process for individual discernment, is the capstone the retreat.
